Labor Day.

By Associated Press.

NASHVILLE, Sept. 7.—Labor Day in this city was celebrated with much enthusiasm. Fully twenty thousand people witnessed the labor parade. A meeting was held at the park in the afternoon at which speeches were made by labor advocates and politicians.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 7.—Labor Day was observed as usual to-day, many houses being closed. There was a parade in the morning, followed in the afternoon by a picnic and games.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 7.—The national association of postal clerks convened in this city this morning, with fifty delegates present from all parts of the country. The meeting was secret. The object of the association is to secure a classification of wages similar to that of letter carriers. Labor Day was not observed as formally. There was no demonstration, and, but for the closing of courts and banks, there would be nothing to indicate the holiday. Large demonstrations were held in Greensburg, Wheeling and other surrounding towns, which was participated in by the labor organizations of this city.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Labor Day was very generally observed in this city. Banks, trade business houses, courts and municipal offices being closed. This morning there was a general parade of labor organizations in this city, after which there were picnics in various parks where the time was spent in athletic games, dancing and speech-making.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Labor Day is being observed here by a parade of the labor organizations.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—The fifth annual observance of Labor Day in San Francisco was marked by a partial suspension of business. The usual parade was held, about 3,500 men being in line, the brewing and building trades being especially well represented. The coast seamen's union turned out about 200 strong, accompanied by their own band. There were a number of floats in line, bearing representations of various trades. Each organization in the parade also displayed some distinctive badge or emblem.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—Labor Day was generally observed here by the closing of all financial institutions, federal offices and the cessation of business generally. Numerous picnics and excursions were participated in by labor organizations.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 7.—Labor Day here was celebrated with a parade and picnics. The banks and exchanges closed and business generally was suspended.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 7.—Labor Day was generally observed in this city to-day by the various labor organizations. Very few of the business houses closed. There was a parade, after which there was speech making. Specials from a number of cities in Kansas indicate that the day is very generally observed as a holiday.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 7.—Labor Day was observed to-day by a large procession of workmen. After the parade addresses were listened to from Major McKinley and John Setz, Republican and People's Party candidates for Governor.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 7.—The first general observance of Labor Day in this city took place to-day. Twenty thousand men formed in procession and marched through the streets of the city, after which they proceeded to the park, where a program was arranged in the way of music, athletic sports, speech making, etc.

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 7.—Parade and speech making was the order of the day's exercises for the celebration of the labor holiday.

DETROIT, Sept. 7.—Labor Day was celebrated quietly here to-day with a parade and picnic.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 7.—Labor Day was generally observed as a holiday in this city. Business was suspended.

Senator Pfeiffer and others made speeches at the labor meeting. ROCHESTER, Sept. 7.—Labor Day celebration here to-day was more general than ever before. Business generally was suspended and parades and picnics were the order of the day.

BOSTON, Sept. 7.—Rain interfered with the program arranged for Labor Day celebration here. Business generally was suspended. In other cities in this vicinity and at Portland, Maine, Concord and New Hampshire the exercises of the day were considerably curtailed, owing to stormy weather.

BUFFALO, Sept. 7.—Labor Day was celebrated here to-day on a scale of unusual magnitude. Governor Hill was present and viewed the parade, after which he held a reception.

COLUMBUS (O.), Sept. 7.—Organized labor celebrated Labor Day with a parade in the morning and exercises at the park in the afternoon with numerous speeches.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 7.—Labor Day was observed here by a general celebration of business houses and manufacturing establishments. There was a parade in the forenoon and athletic contests at Forest City Park in the afternoon.

DENVER, Sept. 7.—Labor Day was generally observed here and throughout the State to-day. In this city business houses, banks and public offices were closed. The parade was the largest ever witnessed in the west. It had over 12,000 men in line. The afternoon was spent at the picnic grounds and resorts near the city.

Columbian Commission.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—The National Columbian Commission reassembled this morning. The report of the committee on awards, recommending the appointment of a committee of eight to have charge of the awards of premiums, was adopted after being amended to make the number twelve and referred to a judiciary committee to frame rules and by-laws for its government.

Commissioner Mercer of Wyoming introduced a resolution setting forth that the Bureau of Publicity and Promotion had sent out a statement that there would be several theaters on the World's Fair grounds, to which separate charges of admission would be made, and declaring it to be the sense of the commission that only one price of admission should be charged for everything on the grounds. Referred to committee on judiciary.

A committee of four was appointed to prepare suitable resolutions touching the death of Commissioner Bingham of Washington.

A request from the Board of Lady Managers for permission to extend their session for one or two days was acceded to.

Not Worth Living.

Special to the GAZETTE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—F. L. Carroll registered at the Prescott House this morning as M. F. Dewing of Fresno. Shortly afterward an explosion which shook the neighborhood attracted attention to his room, and it was found he had committed suicide by exploding a dynamite bomb. The remains of the man were scattered all over the room and one of his arms was found in the street. The windows and plastering were broken and the furniture damaged. Deceased has been working on fruit farms near Fresno. He told a number of persons here that he intended taking his life, as he wanted to create a sensation for the newspapers, but in a note to the coroner which he left, giving his age as 31 and his birth-place as Holland, he says he committed suicide because life was not worth living.

Spy Arrested.

By Cable and Associated Press.

CALCUTTA, Sept. 7.—General Altkhanoff, the well known Russian commander and Oriental diplomat, has been arrested at Kabul, the capital of Afghanistan. He is charged with being a spy in the employ of the Russian government. General Altkhanoff was captured while disguised as a Moslem devotee. It is claimed on his behalf that he is no longer in the employ of the Russian government, as he was recently dismissed from the military post which he held in the Czar's service. It is probable that stern measures will be taken by the Amir of Afghanistan in the case of this important prisoner, who is considered by the British authorities to be one of the most daring, astute and dangerous men in the Russian service.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 7.—Troops to the number of 150,000 are ordered to Warsaw. This will bring the number of Russian forces on the Polish frontier up to 500,000.

Trades Union Congress.

By Cable and Associated Press.

NEW CASTLE, Sept. 7.—The Trades Union Congress opened here this morning. There were over 500 delegates present and they represented 1,500,000 British workmen. Thomas Burt, a member of Parliament and of the Royal Labor Commission, was elected President. Mr. Burt is the son of a coal miner and formerly worked in the coal pits himself. The Congress will discuss a number of questions of great importance to the working classes, prominent among which will be the question as to whether eight hours should or should not constitute a day's work. On this subject there is an increasing diversity of opinion. State insurance for workmen and their employees for liability in case of accident are also questions which will be looked forward to as likely to raise a considerable amount of discussion.

The question of municipal workshops will also be discussed, and it is probable a proposition may be made to form a new national labor party in Parliament in spite of the fact that Gladstone, upon being questioned about this matter, wrote a letter deprecating such a movement on the ground that if every class in the community exercised the right to form a party "we would have a queer Parliament."

The Irish Ignore a Call.

By Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—The officers of the Irish National League of this city at a conference meeting yesterday, decided to ignore President Fitzgerald's circular calling for a national convention to be held in Chicago on October 1st. Among the reasons assigned for ignoring the call are, first, that the time has not yet arrived for a convention until the Irish leaders on the other side are united, and secondly, the local leaders here believe it is a plan of Fitzgerald and Alexander Sullivan to have the convention held in Chicago in order to have themselves elected to offices.

Shot by a Policeman.

Special to the GAZETTE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—James Dwyer, a switchman in the employ of the South Pacific, was shot at the Fourth street restaurant early this morning by Officer Kelly and probably fatally wounded. The officer attempted to arrest a man named Mott, when Dwyer attacked the officer, beating him savagely. The latter thereupon fired three shots, one of which entered Dwyer's left leg and the second penetrated his abdomen. The officer is in bed from the effects of Dwyer's attack.

Consequential Damages.

Special to the GAZETTE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—M. J. Flavin this morning filed a damage suit for $250,000 against the following persons, who are jointly charged with damaging him to the amount charged by filing attachment suits against him on Saturday: Murphy, Grant & Co., Sather Banking Company, Hoffman, Alexander & Co., M. Hayman & Co. and Esberg, Bachman & Co. The petition avers that uncalled for attachments at a critical time did him irreparable damage.

Trailing Train Robbers.

Special to the GAZETTE.

MODESTO, Sept. 7.—Sheriff Purvis of this county and Detective J. N. Thacker went to Visalia this morning to bring back Dalton and Deane, who were arrested near Traver yesterday afternoon. A lady of a camping party near the scene of the attempted robbery accompanied the officers for the purpose of identification. The men stopped on the evening of the robbery at the camp and asked for a drink of water.

China via London.

By Cable and Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—Dispatches to the Times from Singapore say: "Shanghai telegraphs the State power are forcing China to recognize the Shanghai armed volunteer body which has existed for a long time on sufferance. Chang Jav, Governor of Shanghai, is dead. He would probably have become a viceroy if he had lived."

All For Love.

By Associated Press.

BLOOMINGTON (Ill.), Sept. 7.—Dr. Chas. E. Ballard, of Saybrook, Ill., and Miss Bertha Ison of Baker City, Oregon, and daughter of the late Judge Ison of that place, were found dead this morning. Dr. Ballard, a young physician, came to this city on Friday, and ever since then has been importuning Miss Ison, who came here with her mother to attend college, to marry him. She thought much of him, but begged him to postpone the event until after her education was completed. This morning he appeared at the house and had an interview with Miss Ison in the parlor. While talking with her he pulled out a revolver and shot her twice, once through the head and heart, producing instant death. He then shot himself five times, dying in a few minutes.

Quakers All in It.

By Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—The arrest of another of the clerks who looted the Keystone Bank on a charge of making false entries in the ledger, took place this morning. The prisoner, J. Frank Lawrence, was formerly individual ledger clerk at the bank and is a brother of Charles Lawrence, the assistant cashier of the bank who is now serving a sentence in the penitentiary for the share he took in robbing the bank. Frank will have a hearing to-morrow, until which time he is held in bonds of $10,000. Two other clerks will also be given a hearing then.

Hawley Deals.

By Associated Press.

NEW HAVEN, Sept. 7.—Senator Hawley was this morning shown a copy of last night's dispatch, stating he was at Cape May conferring with President Harrison relative to accepting a place in the cabinet, made vacant by the resignation of Secretary Proctor. He was asked if there was any truth in it. "None at all," he answered. "I have not seen the President since last May and he has not sent for me. The matter referred to has not entered my mind and I do not know that any of my friends have asked the place for me."

Lottery Arrest.

By Associated Press.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 7.—Labor Day was celebrated in the usual way. John F. Cramer of the firm of Cramer, Aikens & Cramer, proprietors of the Evening Wisconsin, was arrested this morning by United States authorities on a charge of publishing lottery matter. The arrests of other members of the firm will probably follow this afternoon. The article on which the arrest was the basis was one copied from a San Francisco paper attacking the validity of the lottery law.

Nicaragua Excludes Italians.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—A correspondent writes from San Juan Del Norte that the government of Nicaragua has issued orders to the Governor of that port, not to allow Italian immigrants to disembark, unless their respectability is officially vouched for. The correspondent thinks this restriction of Italian immigration is in violation of a treaty between Nicaragua and Italy.

On the High Seas.

By Cable and Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 7.—The British steamer Gloucester City, from New York August 2d, which has arrived at Bristol, had a rough voyage. A huge wave swept her port side cattle sheds overboard, entailing a loss of 51 head of cattle, while the mate was seriously injured.

A terrific gale in North Wales has caused a further great damage to crops.

Bonds Called In.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—The comptroller of the currency has sent notice to the cashiers of those national banks which have 4½ per cent bonds on deposit with the United States Treasurer as a basis for circulation, on which interest has ceased, asking them to either renew the bonds at 2 per cent or substitute some other bonds as security.

General Hawley's Visit.

By Associated Press.

CAPE MAY, Sept. 4.—It is authoritatively denied at the President's cottage this morning that General Hawley's visit to the President is in any way connected with the Secretaryship of War.

Private Secretary Halford denies any knowledge of Hawley being offered the War Secretaryship.

BOARD OF EQUALIZATION.

Assessments Raised and Lowered by a Simple Twist of the Tongue.

The Board of County Commissioners met this morning as a Board of Equalization and transacted the following:

H. H. Beck appeared for the Riverside Mill Company in answer to a citation for a raise from $16,500 to $20,000. On motion, it was ordered that the assessment stand as returned by the Assessor.

R. L. Eulton appeared for Francis G. Newlands in the matter of raising the assessment of his property from $10,625 to $21,625. On motion, it was ordered to stand as returned by the Assessor at $16,625.

George Cunningham was cited to a raise from $700 to $1,900, and not appearing the assessment stood as returned by the Assessor.

L. Bonstein was raised from $700 to $1,000.

William Jones was raised from $350 to $500.

J. M. Fulton was raised from $1,500 to $1,750.

A. Patterson was raised from $800 to $1,050.

Steve Ede was raised from $5,700 to $6,700.

Amos Alt was raised from $1,750 to $2,000.

L. B. Marshall was raised from $7,500 to $8,400.

Tim O'Keefe was raised from $2,450 to $3,000.

T. J. Kelley was raised from $7,200 to $8,000.

James Sullivan was raised from $7,600 to $10,000.

In the afternoon session, no one who had been sighted to a raise being present, the Board went into session as a Board of Commissioners and transacted the following business:

Commissioner Hymers reported adversely to J. M. McCormack's moving his shanty from a lot on Virginia street to the vacant lot formerly occupied by the Baptist Church building on Second street.

A petition was presented asking the Board to declare Block J, in the town of Reno, outside of the fire limits. On motion, it was so ordered.

Here the Board sat again as a Board of Equalization to settle the V. & T. question. Commissioner McLaughlin appeared for H. M. Yerington and asked that the assessment on the V. & T. B. R. be reduced from $11,000 to $10,000 per mile. On motion of A. A. Evans, Deputy Assessor, and seconded by Sheriff Caughlin, Mr. McLaughlin's motion was voted down and the assessment stands as returned by the Assessor, Clerk Perry, J. C. Hagerman, Sheriff Caughlin and A. A. Evans voting in the negative.

Assessor Fletcher, in an elegant speech, defended his position, but declined to vote on a motion made by his deputy.

Clerk Perry said that it was seldom he got left and moved as an amendment that the assessment be lowered to $7,000 per mile, for he wanted a pass. Commissioner Hymers, in a dignified manner, sat on Perry by declaring the motion out of order.

As the Gazette went to press they were considering some necessary bridge work, and will allow the regular monthly bills to-morrow.

5 O'CLOCK EDITION

In order to present to the world what Nevada is capable of doing in an agricultural way, the GAZETTE will arrange anything sent to it, in an attractive manner at the Pavilion during Fair week. Apples and other fruit, grain of all kinds, potatoes of different varieties, hay, etc., will be arranged, due credit given, and everything necessary to make an attractive display, carried out. We make this offer in order to enable those who cannot come to the Fair to send something; and again a farmer who cannot afford the time, for instance, of preparing but one box of apples for exhibition would hesitate about putting it in alone, when, if exhibited in a State collection, it would show off to better advantage. Parties sending in any article can rest assured of having it properly entered, and if awarded a premium the same will be forwarded to them as soon as collected. Exhibits are respectfully solicited, not only from the farmers in Nevada, but from those in Lassen, Modoc, Sierra and Plumas counties, California. All who wish to avail themselves of our offer should carefully mark their names on the articles sent and write the GAZETTE that such and such a thing had been sent for exhibition. It will save us lots of trouble by sending the truck for exhibition the week before Fair.

THE question of house servants is getting to be a serious one in Reno. One would suppose that where there are so many young women apparently anxious to do something whereby they could earn an honest dollar or two for themselves it would not be at all difficult to get a competent girl willing to do housework. Honest toil is no disgrace to anyone. There is steady and profitable employment for at least fifty girls in Reno to care for children and do housework in small families, and not one applicant for every two situations to be had. When we stop to think that there are poor girls enough in this community to fill all the places where help is needed, and not demean or lower themselves in the slightest degree by so doing, is it a wonder there are so many poor, struggling fathers and mothers who are scarcely able to keep the younger children supplied with school books? The girls of to-day do not amount to much when compared with those of the close of the eighteenth and beginning of the nineteenth century. They are puny, sickly things with a wasp waist and alabaster(?) skin, with false teeth at twenty-five and no account to themselves or anybody else, a burden to the over-worked mothers, pretty to play with for an hour, but that is all.

Is it true that the State University is supported by the people of the State as a private asylum for the lame, halt and blind followers of Senator Stewart? We have heard it so charged by people of the Senator's political faith.

A paper that lays any claim to respectability to publish such a dirty little squib as the above about one of Nevada's most prosperous institutions, which the people of the State can point to with pride, is small business. Its attack on Brown, the late "cutter" at the Carson Mint and who has been engaged as Professor (?) of carpenter work at the University, is vicious, as it is uncalled for, and it is clear to see that the trouble does not lay at anybody's door, but that the Independent wants this growl recorded in time. The Independent is evidently unhappy because the University is a success, and spite its spite out on Senator Stewart, the best friend the institution ever had, and poor Professor Brown, Ph. C., the foreman of the carpenter and joiner department.

DISEASES OF THE RICH.

A French Physician's Book—The Tyranny of the Human Stomach.
It is an old maxim that health is the greatest of all riches, and it is a thing that money will often not buy, says a Paris correspondent of the New York Tribune. Indeed, the possession of great wealth is a predisposing cause of a number of complaints. This is the opinion of Dr. Monin, who has defended it in a book just published, entitled "Rich Men's Evils." The list of diseases which beset the rich man is not a long one, but it is, if one may call it so, a substantial one. The possessor of several hundred thousand dollars has the choice between stomach complaints of various sorts, congestions, apoplexies, rheumatisms, acute and sub-acute gout, headaches of every degree, affections of the heart, pleurisy, and asthma, liver complaints, jaundice, roseola, from which Queen Victoria suffers, sleeplessness, nervous exhaustion, besides a number of artificial distempers which are within the reach of all who can purchase morphine, cocaine and ether.

Whatever your choice may be you may console yourself by the thought that you suffer in good company. Rheumatic people will remember that Mme. de Sevigne, who was a sufferer from it, wore a cheerful countenance and delighted her friends with her sparkling wit. The gouty celebrities form a brilliant host: Horace, Leibnitz, Erasmus, Kant, Franklin, Milton (I give the names as they occur, not in chronological order), Darwin, Sydenham. As you see, doctors are not exempt from it. Literary people are placed by Dr. Monin in company with millionaires—an association no doubt flattering to both, but none the less unlooked for. The weight of their purses, however, has nothing to do with this. But, like plutocrats, they lead a sedentary life, dissipate a quantity of vital energy, and are obliged, on that account, to have a substantial diet. Literary men and women are, therefore, subject to dyspepsia and gout.

TOO INDULGENT BY FAR.
The Irrepressible Small Boy, the Kind Parent and the New Minister.
"Yes," said Mr. Easyman, to Rev. Dr. Prudent, the new minister, who was paying his parishioner a friendly visit, "you are unquestionably right. I do not believe in being over stern with children. Now mine treat me as they would an elder brother or playmate. No scolding, no upstairing, when they hear my latchkey turn in the door. Not much! Make home cheerful—that's my motto."

A frowsy-haired youth of some six summers appeared on the scene at this juncture, says the New York Herald. After eyeing the clergyman critically for a moment he broke out with:

"Say, pa, what is a Jay?"
An ominous frown settled on the brow of the indulgent parent as he replied: "A Jay, my son, is a rather showy bird having a low, erectile crest of feathers and—"

"But, pa, they can fly, can't they?"
"Certainly, my boy. They are noted, too, for their propensity to chatter, and, for instance, to ask foolish questions."

The frown deepened as the boy went on: "But how can they fly, pa, without any wings?"
"My son, I think I heard your ma calling you a few moments ago—"

"Yes, pa, I'm going, only as I heard you tell ma last night that our new minister was a regular Jay, I just wanted to come in here to see whether he could fly. Say, mister (to the astonished clergyman), you ain't got any feathers, have you?"

There was a sudden rush on the part of the indulgent parent, followed by the sudden disappearance of the youthful inquisitor. Then came a series of discordant howls from the hall beyond.

"My dear sir," observed the parent, upon entering the room, "while I admit that I am a kind and indulgent parent—why?"

At this point the front door was heard to slam violently. The minister had disappeared, and now Mr. Easyman is talking about renting a pew in another church.

Expensive Perfume.
A young lady went into a drug store at Belfast, Me., the other evening and purchased a bottle of very high-priced perfume. She had scarcely left the store when she dropped the bottle on the sidewalk, breaking it in many pieces. The mute look of distress which her face assumed assured the spectators of the state of her feelings. Kicking the pieces of the bottle in all directions, she took her handkerchief and mopped up as much of the perfume as possible and walked off, smelling as sweetly as a flower garden.

Prevention of Imprudent Borrowing.
The Egyptians had a very remarkable ordinance to prevent persons from borrowing imprudently. An Egyptian was not permitted to borrow without giving to his creditor in pledge the body of his father. It was deemed both an impious and an infamy not to redeem a sacred pledge. A person who died without discharging that duty was deprived of the customary honors paid to the dead.

Steady Progress

Has characterized Hood's Sarsaparilla ever since it was placed before the public. Wherever introduced, its sales have grown from year to year, until now it is the most popular and most successful medicine offered. Any druggist will confirm this statement. The secret of this success lies in the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a medicine of merit. It does actually accomplish all that is claimed for it, and when given a fair trial, is reasonably certain to be of benefit.

Positive Statements.
"Since Hood's Sarsaparilla has been in my hands for sale I have had frequent and unreserved testimonials in its favor. Although carrying this preparation for less than one year, my sales have been greater than of any similar preparation, and the testimonials in its favor are at once positive and personally noticeable." A. W. WOOD, Hallsboro, Cal.

Sells On Its Merits.
"My boys say, 'Papa, why don't you buy more of Hood's Sarsaparilla at a time; we are always short.' It sells on its own merits." F. B. BART, Portland, Oregon; the oldest druggist in Oregon.

RENO GAINS A NEW RESIDENT.

Dr. W. H. Patterson, Late of Cedarville, Takes Up a Residence in Reno. The Altaras Herald contains the following well deserved notice under the caption of "A Good Citizen Gone":

"We are in receipt of a postal card from Dr. W. H. Patterson, dated August 27, announcing that he would that day leave Cedarville for Reno, his future home. It is always unpleasant to us to mention the departure of good people from our county, and in this case we are losing a remarkably good citizen. Dr. Patterson has resided in Surprise Valley for the past twenty years, and up to a few years ago was engaged in the practice of his profession. As a physician and surgeon he has few equals and no superiors, and the same thing may be said of him as a citizen and neighbor. In matters of public interest he always took an active part, and assisted liberally in every respect. In 1887 he represented the counties of Sierra, Plumas, Lassen and Modoc in the State Senate, and it was widely remarked that the little, isolated county of Modoc had furnished the most brilliant representative that had graced the legislative halls for many a year. For a companion he chose a lady who was in every way worthy to be the wife of such a man, and for many years this estimable lady has been identified with social, charitable and religious work in her neighborhood. They will be sadly missed by the public in general and by the people of Cedarville in particular."

Dr. Patterson has rented the residence formerly occupied by J. S. Shoemaker and moved into the office lately occupied by Dr. Thoma in the National Bank building, and will be ready to heal the sick and cure the halt and blind in a few days. The doctor proposes to take a limited number of patients that he can give first-class medical treatment, but beyond that he does not propose to go. The doctor will prove himself worthy of the confidence of the community, professionally, socially and morally.

WEAKNESS OF THE EYES.

Words of Wisdom from an Eminent Authority.

Dr. Brudenell Carter, one of London's most eminent eye specialists, has of late endeavored to open people's eyes to their own shortsightedness. He is amazed at the ignorance of parents and teachers with regard to the very existence of visual defects in their children, and gives them excellent advice. Unfortunately, near-sighted children are often ignorant of their own calamity. They are thought "stupid" because they cannot read the clock or the blackboard the same, or rather at the same distance as other children. Nothing is of so much importance to a child as his eyesight. Little or no progress can be made if the eyes are in a normal condition.

The boy hopes to get the Latin grammar into his head by putting his head into the Latin grammar. He is doing his best, without knowing it, to make himself shortsighted for life, and is very likely to succeed. Another matter of equal importance is the construction of the desks, the admission of the light and the position of the body. Teachers should see that the desks are constructed properly, as the faulty arrangement of school desks has much to do with the prevailing short sight of the present day. The light should be admitted so as to fall over the left shoulder if possible.

SIDES IN SACRAMENTO.

The Overseer of the Piste Republics stands at an interview. The Sacramento News interviewed Johnnie Sides and says:

"How are times in Nevada?" he was asked.

"Oh, just so-so. Good Injun not make too much money just nowadays."

"How's Bill Gibson?"

"He's pretty good sometimes. He makes good officer sometimes."

"And Sam Davis?"

"He about as fat as every time before. Nothing seems to trouble him. My old friend Governor Adams, he not in Carson so much now."

"Does grub ever get short?"

"Not when I can get to Virginia City and see Joe Douglas. Some people don't like Joe, but I do. He good friend to good Injun."

"Do you know Governor Oliver Roberts?"

"Yes, the Gov. Frank Bell, and Gov. Powell, and Gov. Stotter, and Gov. Latta, and Gov. everybody. What's the matter I never got to be Gov? I 'bout as much Gov. as most of those ol' friends of mine."

Tobacco Plants.

In the yard of A. W. Heeson, says the Elko Independent, can be seen several tobacco plants. One of them is about three feet tall and about ready to bloom. The late frosts retarded the growth of the plants, but from their present appearance tobacco in an ordinary season would do well in this climate. There are several tobacco plants growing in Tuscarora, all appearing thrifty. One at the Times Review residence has attained a height of upwards of four feet and is through blooming.

Palace Dry Goods House.

This popular establishment is now engaged in the task of receiving its fall stock of goods and the manager is too busy to set forth the attractions in an ad., and hence he has simply reserved a space in the GAZETTE for that purpose. As soon as the goods are checked he will speak a piece to the readers of the GAZETTE and let them know what the fall novelties are, and in the meantime all are invited to call and inspect the stock before buying elsewhere.

Special Premium.

I hereby offer a special premium of $20 for the best colt sired by the imported English stallion, Merrifield King, $10 for the second best, to be exhibited at the coming State Fair. My own colts not to be entered in the contest.

Wm. Wagner, Prop. of Merrifield King.

SEEN BY A STRANGER.

The Boys and Belles of Reno as Seen by a Stalwart Miner from the South.

He was a stalwart miner from one of the southern counties, that stepped from the V. & T. train last night, and looked the picture of manly health, with his cheeks bronzed with the summer's sun and his hair bristling with a defiant alkali crisp. He was young and robust and blessed beyond the average with brain and brawn, and when he swung from the car steps onto the platform he looked like a young Sullivan. But he was modest by nature and hesitated as he was pressed forward through the throng of boisterous boys who were playfully boxing on the crowded walk. He looked a little vexed and hesitated as though itching to take a hand, but he was a stranger, and the sight of a policeman's star reminded him that this was a journey in haste to close a sale of his mine, and he couldn't spare the time. He good-naturedly breast his way through the crowd of mischief-making boys, with a smile of contemptuous superiority as he pushed aside

THE YOUTHFUL STRUPLINGS.

And strode like a young giant into the office for the sleeper ticket he had telegraphed for. Then he retraced his way into the same crowd, and meeting an old acquaintance, drew aside to exchange greetings. Soon the whistle warned the approach of No. 4, bound for San Francisco, and his friend marched him around the depot to the north side. Here was a sight to cheer the many heart, for it was Sunday night and Reno's beauty was gathered there. The platform was swarming with Reno's belles, and our stalwart miner, brave in the presence of desert dangers, winged as he walked through the throng, and as he climbed onto the Reno sleeper he said: "If we had all those handsome girls out our way, there'd be more men among 'em."

THE POPE'S WISHES.

He Favors the Election of a Cardinal Who is Not an Italian.

Catholic circles were deeply interested in a report from Rome that Pope Leo had seriously considered the propriety of advising the next conclave to be held in France. Also that he was in favor of the Cardinals attending to the session, electing to the office, when it is made vacant by his death, a Frenchman or a Cardinal of some nationality other than Italian.

These resolutions of the Pope are said to be the result of the long conflict waged by the civil authorities of Rome against the Church. It was said that two years ago, in 1889, he endeavored to perfect an agreement with Prince Monaco, by which the Vatican could be removed from Rome and located on the latter's domain.

Pope Leo is now 81 years old, and it is said that the fact that his life might soon end has caused him to make known his wishes regarding his successor.

His exact ideas on the subject will be made known at the approaching election of a head of the Dominican Order, which will take place in the latter part of this month. The Dominican Order is one of the oldest in the Church, and one of the most powerful.

The Astor Gowns.

The Astor dresses were sold at auction in New York last Tuesday. It will be remembered that the robes were bought by Mrs. William Astor while in Paris this summer to be delivered at her Fifth Avenue home, but being invoiced by the famous dress-maker Felix as worth 1,000 francs instead of 3,000, they were seized for undervaluation when they arrived on this side July 22. They were exquisite creations of Felix and bidding was spirited. One sold for $600 and the other for $500.

Heating the Assessment.

In Virginia City the Water company claim to be assessed too high—clear out of their boots—and have notified the Board of Equalization that unless it is reduced to the valuation of last year, the company will raise the city water rate from $300 per month to $500, the maximum allowed by law. It promises to be a hard nut to crack, as the city would only gain $582 in taxes and have to pay $2,400 additional for water.

Team Against Train.

The Inyo Independent of the 4th inst. says: "One of Bishop's enterprising merchants still continues his freight shipments from Mojave. This one team alone saves to the valley upwards of $5,000 a year and provides a market for a considerable quantity of hay and grain."

Broke His Leg.

On Friday night in Virginia City Wm. Johnson, son of the late J. Neely Johnson, made a misstep in an alleyway and fell a distance of 14 feet, breaking his right leg just above the ankle. The break was a severe one, and at last advice the physicians were in doubt whether to amputate it or not.

Clean Up.

If the foreman of the section of the Southern Pacific Co.'s road that pass through Reno would spend an hour cleaning up the side of the track between West and Sierra streets, he would improve the appearance of the track and the street as well. It is an unsightly piece of road as it now is.

The Tortures of the Inquisition inflicted by the dread Torquemada have abominable prototypes in the shape of chronic rheumatism and malaria. Attack these agonizing complaints before they reach the chronic stage with the superb blood-purifier, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will assuredly expel their virus from the life stream. To protrastinate is to encourage the growth of indolent rheumatism, which rapidly tightens its grip upon the system. It is the precursor of disease, and painful indeed is the clasp of its dreadful tentacles. Be prompt, therefore, take time by the forelock, always remembering that both rheumatism and gout, close relatives, are dangerous as well as painful. Biliousness, indigestion, bilious remittent, dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, nervousness and kidney disease amount to the Bitters. Appetite and the ability to sleep well are improved by it.

Dr. M. J. Davis is a prominent physician of Lewis, Cass county, Iowa, and has been actively engaged in the practice of medicine at that place for the past thirty-five years. On the 26th of last May, while in Des Moines, en route to Chicago, he was suddenly taken with an attack of diarrhoea. Having sold Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for the past seventeen years, and knowing its reliability, he procured a 25 cent bottle, two doses of which completely cured him. For sale by J. B. McCullough.

MRS. GRAHAM'S
Cucumber and Elder Flower Cream.

Is not a cosmetic in the sense in which that term is popularly used, but a permanent beautifier. It creates a soft, smooth, clear, velvety skin, and by daily use gradually makes the complexion several shades whiter. It is a constant protection from the effects of sun and wind and prevents sunburn and freckles. The cream will never come while you use it. It cleanses the face far better than soap and water, nourishes and builds up the skin tissue and thus prevents the formation of wrinkles. It gives the freshness, clearness and smoothness of skin that you wish when a little girl. Every lady, old or young ought to use it, as it gives a more youthful appearance to any lady and is nourishing to the skin as dew is to the flower.

Price, $1.00, at all druggists and hair-dressers. At Mrs. Gervase Graham's establishment, 101 Post street, San Francisco, where she treats ladies for all blemishes of the face or figure. Ladies at a distance treated by letter. Send stamp for her little book, "How to be Beautiful."

"CRACKLING" BREAD.

The Delusion Under Which Col. Colquitt Devores a Fruit Cake.

The Washington correspondent of the St. Louis Republic is responsible for this story, which he credits to Col. John R. Cary, of Richmond, and says it was told in the rooms of the southern society at New York recently:

"Now, you must understand," Col. Cary began, "what 'cracklings' are to appreciate this story. 'Cracklings' are small brown particles of pork left over from that part of the hog used in making lard. In the south 'cracklings' are mixed with meal in making cornbread, and the mixture very closely resembles crackling bread. Now, to get down to my story, it was just after the fall of Richmond, and I was making my way back to New York, when I suddenly ran into Col. Colquitt, of Georgia. Now, I knew Col. Colquitt pretty well, and, as he looked half-starved, I invited him to share the hospitality of my home for a few days. We reached home at dinner time. I had not been home before for two years, and, of course, the fatted calf was killed. For dinner we had salt pork and potatoes in profusion, and Colquitt said never a word. He had fasted for probably a week and he just 'waded in.'"

"I said my mother-in-law had a pound cake and a fruit cake which I knew she had been saving for eighteen months. When she passed the fruit cake to Colquitt he stood not upon ceremony, but helped himself. He ate one slice, two, three, four, five, six, and mother fairly wept when he made a motion to take the seventh. She courteously arose at this point and said: 'Comed, perhaps you would prefer some pound cake.' Colquitt looked at the rich pound cake a moment, and then replied in his most gallant manner: 'No, thank you, madam; I have lived on corn-bread and little of that cake which I know is as much of a luxury as I care for.' Colquitt had actually eaten half of that fruit cake under the impression that it was 'crackling' bread. He was too hungry to notice the difference."

THE CZAR'S SLEUTH HOUND.
A Moscow Mechanic Who Ferreted Out a Nihilist Plot.

Michael Lenz was, a few years ago, one of the most famous of the Russian political detectives. He was, says a reporter, a man of a special constable when the Emperor Alexander visited that city to witness the opening of the Alexander hospital. Lenz heard, or claimed to have heard, a conversation between two women indicating the existence of a plot against the czar. He hurried with his information to the prefect of police, and the two women were tracked and taken into custody.

One of them proved to be a valuable prisoner, although there was nothing of a dangerous character found in their possession when arrested. Lenz was frequently called upon for service in tracing alleged conspiracies, and did his work so satisfactorily that he was engaged as a regular employee, and gradually promoted to be chief of the detectives of the secret police.

To Lenz was due the detection of Sophia Grunberg, the young woman put to death a few months ago for being engaged in a nihilist plot. He is said to have no scruples in his methods, and in one case, that of Maria Spiranti, he courted the woman a full year as a lover, and at length pretended to go through the marriage ceremony in order to win her confidence.

He got her confidence and also a batch of nihilist revelations that undoubtedly placed in the hands of the Russian police the key to the whole system of nihilism in Russia and abroad as it existed two years ago.

DRIVING IN LONDON.
Where They Keep to the Left Instead of the Right.

England is the only place I know of where they drive to the left. English drivers say that by sitting on the right and driving to the left they can better watch the hubs of approaching vehicles, and thus prevent collisions. I don't exactly understand this, says a writer in the Home Journal, but it is the explanation they give for driving to the left.

Quick-going vehicles will turn a corner sharply, but the driver raises his whip to notify the vehicle in his immediate rear that he is about to turn. "Cabbies" are more considerate concerning fellow-drivers than they are to the roadway; pedestrians must look out for themselves or be run over. That is why so many of the London police are engaged solely in attending to street traffic. Yet, with all their vigilance, more accidents occur in London, proportionately, than elsewhere. London drivers are polite and very civil to each other. If an obstruction appears in front of a horse, or if for any reason he is obliged to suddenly slow up, the driver will immediately notify the driver in the rear by holding out horizontally his left arm, and this sign is passed down from one driver to another until the very end of the line of blocked vehicles is reached.

Homes for French Workmen.
Hitherto the working classes in Paris have lived in great tenement houses and have had no experience of separate dwellings. Now, however, an effort is to be made to provide them an improved mode of life. A society with a large capital has been formed for the purpose. There will be six thousand houses erected, to constitute a quarter, in the extreme northeast, on a site hitherto partly a hamlet of roughs. Already nearly two hundred have been finished and occupied. They cost each from one thousand two hundred and twenty dollars to five thousand dollars, those representing the smallest figure being, of course, the most numerous. In each case there is a garden in front and a yard behind, with sanitary arrangements. The occupants are to become owners in fifty years by payment of rent.

Horses in War.
The people of Thessaly were the first to break horses for service in war, and their proficiency as equestrians probably first gave rise to the ancient myth that their country was originally inhabited by centaurs, fabulous creatures supposed to be half horse and half man.

DOGS THAT WENT FISHING.

A Newfoundland That Was Fond of Catching Crabs.

I once knew two dogs that took great delight in catching crabs, says a writer in Forest and Stream, not soft crabs, but lusty, hard ones, capable of making a good fight. When about twelve years of age I used to spend my vacations at a large farm on a tributary of the Chesapeake bay. Besides myself there was another boy and two dogs at this house. One of the dogs was a large Newfoundland, and the other was one of those medium-sized, puzzling combinations of short hair and no particular color—probably an all-around dog, as concerned his breeding.

One day I noticed the large dog wading about in the shallow water at the foot of the yard and evidently searching for something. I found that he was looking for crabs. When a crab was discovered he would prance around it, and, after making several attempts, seize it in his mouth and bring it up on the beach, and then play with it, much as a cat does with a mouse, until the poor crab was either dead or helplessly exhausted. He seemed to do this for the mere sport of the thing, barking all the time in a tone that denoted excitement rather than anger. He never ate the crabs after killing them. The crabs fought back to the best of their ability, and it was often difficult to say which had the tightest grip, dog or crab, for the crab would fasten on to some portion of the dog's mouth with both of his powerful pinchers, and it would require much shaking before he would drop off.

Experiments in Vivisection.
In England licenses to experiment upon living animals are grudgingly granted, and only to persons recommended by high scientific authority. A strict record of all experiments in vivisection is kept, and reported annually to parliament. The latest of these reports shows during 1890, 230 experiments by 110 persons. In 920 cases the patient suffered no pain, being kept in a condition of perfect anesthesia, while in 837 cases the pain endured was only that caused by hypodermic injection. The government inspector reported that he had not found a single animal which seemed to be in bodily pain. The subjects under investigation included tuberculosis, cancer, diphtheria, pneumonia, tetanus, rabies, circulation, respiration, nerve action, the effect of various poisons and narcotics, the development of bacteria, etc.
